

American Muscle BLOG My First Car Contest 2008 - 2nd Place

This is my first car, a 1990 Geo Prizm Hatchback. It started off as my dad's car. Then my sister bought it from him for $2000. I got it when I turned 16 and did a few things to it, as you will see in the pictures. Being my first car I wanted to start doing things to make it better, and just to mess around, and also for maintenance. First of all my sister had put a JVC head unit in, so I wanted to get more use out of that, so I took out the rear speakers and wired in my home big box stereo speakers!

After awhile the headliner started falling down so I had to thumb tack that up there. I then put on some chrome hubcaps, but back then I did not realize what the wire was for and figured I should cut it to get it to fit (bad idea). So after my test drive I got home and they had all fallen off (opps). After awhile I went on to my next car a '96 S-10 pickup, so I had to sell it. I believe we sold it for $500 to my dad's friend's daughter. Unfortunately after a week she had wrecked it, I was very upset. So I went to where it was parked and stole the emblem off of the front grille so I could remember it. It was a good car but it got old with time. Now I am in my dad's mustang that he bought new, a 2000 GT and am loving it!
